COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

A few questions have arisen recently relative to the use of the Common. A few inquiries and some research have provided information. First check was at the Library where it was found on Page 148 of the Bethel History a copy of the deed to the Common. In checking at the Registry of Deeds it was found, that Joseph Twitchell and Jacob Ellingwood deeded the Common to the town of April 24, 1823, the deed being recorded in Book 23, Page 524.

Statements have been made that the Common was given to the town to be preserved as a beauty spot. Another that it be used as a recreation area for children. In reading the deed neither of these are mentioned. The following lines are copied from the deed that the public may better understand as to how the Common may be used and by whose authority: "aware of the utility to the public from the conversion of a plot of ground into what is usually denominated a Common, for the accommodation of the public on the days of training and other popular collections: Convicted that the title to land appropriated to such use should be vested in the public; desirous that the parcel of land in this town generally called the Common, should be converted and accommodated to the public use, each and convenient; and shall use and occupy the same as a Common as aforesaid and shall not convert the same to any other use by erecting buildings thereon or otherwise."

More on this subject in the next issue.
Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

POPPY DAY SALE HERE SATURDAY

The American Legion Auxiliary is appealing to residents of Bethel to "wear a Poppy" this coming Saturday, May 28.

Poppy Day, an annual memorial observance in the United States for more than 40 years, offers citizens the opportunity to remember both the nation's war dead and its disabled veterans.

The poppy became immortalized in a poem by a Canadian soldier, Lt. Col. John McCrae, entitled, "In Flanders Fields." The poem begins: "In Flanders fields the poppies blow between the crosses, row on row."

The poppy as a memorial to our servicemen's sacrifices for the cause of freedom dates back to the years following the first World War. The American soldiers returning home in 1918 were familiar with the wild European poppies which bloomed on the battlefields of Europe.

All of the red crepe paper memorial flowers offered to the public each year by volunteer workers are made by veterans in hospitals and recuperation centers throughout the nation. Poppies offered to the public in this area are made at Togus Veterans Hospital.

Since the years following World War I the flower has become symbolic of the sacrifices all American servicemen have made in the nation's defense. Wearing a poppy on Saturday will be your opportunity to remember them.

Governor Asks Safety During Holiday Travel

Governor John H. Reed and Col. Robert Marx, State Police chief, today issued a joint plea to Maine motorists and pedestrians to recognize the dangers which accompany a long holiday week end and to exercise exceptional care in traffic during the Memorial Day period.

"With Memorial Day falling on Monday this year, many people will be planning long week ends on the road," said Governor Reed. "This means, of course, that Maine roads will be carrying an unusual amount of traffic and that the accident potential will be greatly increased."

Pointing out that six persons were killed in Maine traffic crashes during the Memorial Day weekend in 1958 — and again in 1959 — the Governor continued:

"The sad record of highway death during these two most recent Memorial Day periods is a grim reminder of the necessity for extra care. I urge everyone who drives or who walks in traffic to make safety his first consideration. Please do more than your share to prevent traffic tragedy."

Col. Marx announced that every available man will be assigned to traffic patrol during the long week end.

"We shall do everything possible to prevent accidents and to protect the law-abiding motorists from the irresponsible few who refuse to obey the rules of the road," he said. "However, extra care and voluntary compliance with the traffic laws by everyone on the road will be the decisive factors. Make sure that your traffic conduct is a contribution to the safety effort."

HIGHWAY PICNIC AREAS OPEN FOR SEASON

The State Highway Commission opened its 200 roadside picnic areas for the season last week end.

Department crews, during the past month, have been busy readying the popular areas for use. Grounds have been cleaned, tables and trash barrels given a fresh coat of paint, and new equipment installed.

Improvements to the picnic areas this season include the installation of 50 additional toilet buildings. When this year's installations are completed over half of the areas throughout the State will be equipped with the new units.

Many of the areas already have new fireplaces designed so that the picnicker will have a safe place to build a fire with either wood or charcoal.

Highway Department crews regularly provide maintenance of picnic areas during the season to keep them neat and presentable for Maine motorists and out-of-state visitors.

A leaflet listing the location and available facilities of Maine's roadside picnic areas can be obtained by writing the State Highway Commission, Augusta, Maine, or your local information bureau.

JACKSON-SILVER UNIT LEGION AUXILIARY

The Jackson-Silver Unit No. 63 of the American Legion Auxiliary is conducting a Poppy Festival and a Poppy Poster Contest with youngsters in the local area, participating. The children in the upper grades at the Greenwood schools, 4-H girls at both Greenwood and Bryant Pond and the Girl Scouts from Bryant Pond and Milton are selling Poppies.

The following grades 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th at Greenwood school and the 4th, 5th, 7th, at Bryant Pond, have entered in the Poppy Poster Contest. Awards for the best posters will be made Memorial Day during the annual exercises held at Locke Mills. There will be a window display representing "The Poppy" sponsored by the Jackson-Silver Unit at Leach's IGA store in Locke Mills.

Many of the areas already have new fireplaces designed so that the picnicker will have a safe place to build a fire with either wood or charcoal.

Highway Department crews regularly provide maintenance of picnic areas during the season to keep them neat and presentable for Maine motorists and out-of-state visitors.

A leaflet listing the location and available facilities of Maine's roadside picnic areas can be obtained by writing the State Highway Commission, Augusta, Maine, or your local information bureau.

DRIVER RESPONSIBLE FOR KEEPING WINDOWS CLEAR

The practice of posting political stickers on car windows and windows is illegal and resulting in complaints, according to Arlyn E. Barnard, Chairman of the Maine Highway Safety Committee. "The law expressly prohibits any such use of car windows," Barnard said. The law to which he refers is Section 33A of Chapter 171 which reads, "No person shall drive any motor vehicle with any sign, poster, or other nontransparent material upon the front windshield, side wings, or side or rear windows of such vehicle which obstructs the driver's clear view of the highway or any intersecting highway."

Points can be assessed against such drivers' records for violation of this provision at the discretion of police officers, Barnard added.

DON'T TAKE FAWNS HOME

If you find a fawn deer which appears to have been deserted by its mother, please leave it there. The mother deer is probably watching you, waiting to get back to her youngster. And she does a much better job of raising it than any mere human. Also, when winter comes, the fawn raised in the woods is much better prepared for survival than the one reared in captivity.

Every spring, game wardens all over the Maine receive from 25 to 50 fawns from people who found them where their mother had "deserted them." These deer must then be taken to the state Game Farm in Gray or to the home of Kilr Beck, naturalist and artist who raises them for the state. The following summer, these yearling deer are released in the woods, in areas where there is sufficient feed and light hunting pressure. All of this is an unnecessary expenditure of time and money by the Fish and Game Department. More important, the deer raised in captivity is missing the lessons of survival it would be learning in the woods. So, after caring for the deer for several months, and releasing it in a carefully chosen area, it's still a gamble whether the newcomer in the wilds will win its battle for survival.

While some does are killed by cars, dogs, bobcats, and so on, in most cases the mother of the apparent orphan is standing nearby, out of sight, waiting for the people to move on. When this happens, the doe comes out of the woods and resumes her care and feeding of the "helpless fawn."

All it takes to have a "smooth" party line is common sense and a little courtesy. By using the telephone sharingly, keeping your calls brief and by giving up the line in case of an emergency, everyone on the party line gets better service, including you.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvaire that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run... went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvaire's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvaire (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvaire is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

POST OFFICE DEPT. SAYS MAINE MAIL SERVICE IMPROVED

A major improvement in postal service to provide next-day delivery of first-class letter mail for 950,000 people throughout the State of Maine was announced today by Postmaster General Arthur E. Sumner. Speaking for the Postmaster General was John B. DeMott, Operations Director for the New England Region of the Post Office Department.

Postal patrons in the area were assured that, barring infrequent human errors in distribution, first-class letters mailed on a business day before 5:00 p. m. or at a limited number of smaller offices in time for final dispatch, if made prior to 5:00 p. m., will be delivered anywhere within the state on the following business day.

"Moving early in the day thereby giving the post office time to sort and transport mail to its destination is the best way to make sure your letter is delivered the next day anywhere within the state," Mr. DeMott said.

This program for better first class mail service has been in test operation throughout the Maine area since February 6, 1959. During this shakedown period results have exceeded expectations.

"The major improvements in the Maine area's first-class letter mail service are the result of extensive study and planning by Regional postal officials. The postmasters at the 600 post offices in Maine have worked as a team to put into effect the comprehensive service program," Mr. DeMott reported.

The volume of letter mail handled on an average day between post offices in the state averages 1,400,000 pieces.

Most of the postal buildings and facilities in the area are modernized and adequate to effect early mail delivery. The volume of letter mail has increased since the improved delivery of letters throughout Maine's 22,000 square miles is being accomplished despite this handicap.

SENDING GROUP TO CAMP

Mount Abram Fish and Game Association has voted to send two boys to Camp Jordan, on Branch Pond in Ellsworth again this year. These boys must be 13 and not over 17. They will be chosen by selling memberships. The boys selling the most over 30 to be the ones to go. If anyone is interested please notify Mrs. Arthur Cummings at once. The boys will have from June 16 until July 21 to sell. And the lucky ones will go to camp on August 7th.

The revised service pattern makes possible the next-day delivery of first-class mail anywhere in the state through a closely integrated timetable which governs the work of the State's postal units and the transportation linking them together. The intransit time of parcel post has also been reduced considerably under this service pattern.

Mr. DeMott paid tribute to the postmasters and other postal personnel throughout Maine in announcing these service improvements. He said that they had been accomplished with a decrease in overall cost, resulting from revision and coordination of transportation, and increased efficiency within the postal establishment.

"SLOW DOWN" CAMPAIGN TO START ON MEMORIAL DAY

The State Police have announced that Maine will join the other forty-nine states, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, and the ten provinces of Canada, in supporting the 1960 "Slow Down and Live" program. This eighth annual summertime highway safety campaign gets underway Memorial Day, May 30th.

Sergeant Ralph E. Hanson of the Bureau of Traffic Records, Maine State Police, will serve as State Safety Coordinator for Maine in this program which extends through Labor Day September 5th. The official slogan which has been adopted by the Association of State and Provincial Coordinators for this year's program is: "HIGHWAY SAFETY... makes driving FUN".

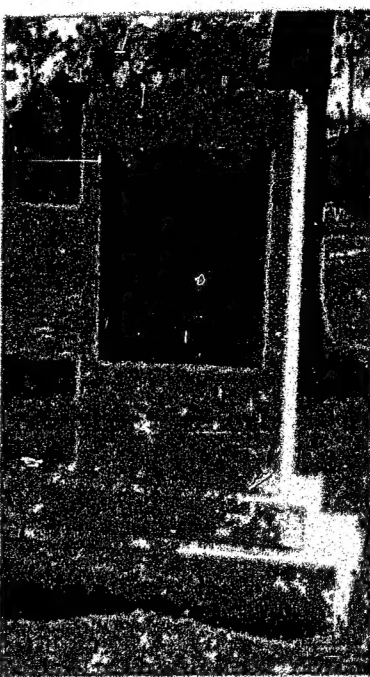

The annual safety program is aimed primarily at "in-a-hurry" driving violations—mistakes which have been responsible for a great majority of serious highway crashes. The coordinators list what they consider to be the most dangerous of these violations, namely: excessive speed, speed too fast for conditions, improper passing, failure to yield right of way, and following too closely. In calling attention to these violations—often referred to as the "fatal five"—they urged every motorist to cooperate with this special emphasis program which has the support of enforcement agencies, business and industry, state and local governmental agencies and support groups. They point out that if each driver will obey all laws—and make a special effort to avoid the "fatal five"—we can prove the truth of the slogan: "HIGHWAY SAFETY... makes driving FUN".

"A lot of people are already working a four-day week, although it takes them five or six days to do it,"—Industrial Press Service.
